SUNDAY, OCTOBER 14 • 6:30 pm

Outcall Theatre at Playhouse Square

written by LYNN NOTTAGE | directed by LAURA KEPLEY

The American Dream has its back up against the wall in this Pulitzer Prize-winning drama. In Reading, PA, there's talk of union lock-outs, massive layoffs, and jobs going overseas. As rumors quickly become reality, a group of life-long friends gather at their local bar to joke and blow off steam while struggling to stand together as everything else falls apart. Inspired by true stories, Sweat is a compelling portrait of pride and survival in the Rust Belt.
