

Presidential Election – Who Would You Vote For Right As Of September 2015?

239 Responses

In Alphabetical order - choose one

Joe Biden	23
Jeb Bush	3
Ben Carson	8
Hillary Clinton	78
Ted Cruz	1
Carly Fiorina	2
John Kasich	1
Rand Paul	2
Marc Rubio	2
Bernie Sanders	76
Donald Trump	12
None of the above	24
No Vote	7

The following candidates did not receive any votes:

Lincoln Chafee
Chris Christie
Lindsay Graham
Mike Huckabee
Bobby Jindal
Martin O'Malley
Rick Santorum
Scott Walker

COMMENTS:

#Feelthebern!

Also like Bernie Sanders but I don't think he can win.

At this point in time...

Bernie can not be bought. Hillary is a politician. Bernie is a progressive who has the chance to be the FDR of this century. Feel the Bern!!!!!!

Bernie is the only progressive candidate running for either party. His values are the most consistent with the values embodied our local's mission statement.

Bernie Sanders all day long.

don't know yet

Go Bernie!

Hilary Clinton is a liar and not to be trusted. How in the world can people keep believing her and supporting her? Benghazi, email server, Clinton foundation, one scandal after another. She should be in jail for sending classified information on the private server. She broke the law. Yet, people continue to believe her because SHE says it's above board. Really? I am stunned that the AFT is gullible enough to endorse her.

Hillary Clinton is proven to be a liar and skirts around the truth to her convenience. How can we support someone with such low standards?

I hope the teachers union is not limited to only democratic candidates!

I agree: They spoke too soon, and without our voices!

I also like Biden more than Hillary

I am hoping Joe Biden joins the race. I absolutely WILL NOT vote for Hillary Clinton. I'll vote republican before voting for her.

I am not informed enough at this point to make a decision

I believe there should not be an endorsement given until we are at least close to the primary elections (within 2-3 months). Endorsing so early does not give enough time for information on candidates to be fully out to the public. Indeed, often all the candidates haven't even declared.

I do not yet know enough about each candidate's stance on education policy and practice.

I really don't have a choice yet. There are a number of people who are definitely off of my list, but a lot can happen between now and the primaries. I do have to admit, I am not a Hillary fan. I'm ready for fresh blood.

I cannot wait to hear someone tell Donald Trump, "Your fired!"

I was livid with National for doing this, especially early. Even the nurses' knew better!

I will definitely vote for a democratic candidate, but at this time I do not know which one. If Biden doesn't enter the race, then Bernie Sanders. I would vote for Hilliary if she was the Democratic nominee.

If Joe Biden does not run then I don't know who I'd vote for. Maybe Lindsay Graham if I decide he is not too old.

I'm sorry there is no way I'll vote for Hillary Clinton.

My concern with endorsing a candidate this early in the election cycle is that it substantially diminishes the ability of our union to press candidates regarding our issues. This in turn will limit the amount of national press coverage that our issues will receive and puts us in a weaker position. To say that our national union has listened to our concerns is a cover for the real story, which in my perspective is Randi wanted to help our her pal, Hillary...

Or possibly Bernie Sanders

Still mostly undecided

Stuck between Biden and Sanders. Still need to hear more

The democratic party has supported us so poorly after we vote for them that I am voting on issues other than education! Obama has made it worse for teachers with his ed sec and policy decisions. I think Hillary is a liar and will vote republican before I vote for her. Arne Duncan is a moron. We need less testing and more support for teachers in the classroom (not talking just $). We need to get the newer members of the union to understand what we have done to make their jobs secure and how all this micro management is killing the profession and getting good teachers to leave and potential teachers to reconsider coming into teaching! totally undecided at this time.

Trump is The Man to stand up to all the world powers! Waiting to see his views and stance on backing the great unions in the country! Ben Carson, Ted Cruz, Carly Fiorina, and Marc Rubio not to bad! Democrats are all clowns like Schmida stated about the Republicans! Hillary should be in prison, Sanders can't even stand up to two Black Lives Matters ladies on stage, and Biden would continue the horrible policies from the Obama era! Biden's son's death has taken a big tole on him mentally! He is waiting to see what happens to Hillary first! Obama will back Biden! We need to secure our borders before ISIS and Islam pores millions of refugee's into the USA causing mass murders, rapes, and be-headings to American citizens!

undecided

Undecided at the moment

We shouldn't endorse a political candidate in the name of ALL of us.

Who is Lincoln Chafee?;) Honestly, none of the candidates wow me right now. I'm sure as time moves on I will change my mind.

Whoever is dem vote

Whomever the democratic nominee will be.

Would vote for Clinton/Biden in a general election, but my preference lies firmly with Bernie Sanders.

You can't count on any of them! What a joke.